Indonesia Export Detention Calculation Revision

Dear Valued Customer

Effective from Price Calculation Date February 15, 2021, we hereby notify you the following change at our Export Detention tariff calculation in Indonesia.

Maersk will use a Progressive method to calculate export detention charges upon expiry of the freetime.

The tariff itself and the agreed free time will not be affected by this change.

To explain the new method:

Progressive means: For customers with special deals, after the extended free time expires, any additional days will be subject to the detention charges as per the relevant day count in our tariff tier structure. This means that the subsequent detention charges beyond extended free time will not automatically be calculated basing on the tariffs of 1st tier.

Please refer to the below table which shows the change using a hypothetical example of a customer with a special free time agreement for Dry 40' in Indonesia:

A customer that has 14 days of freetime in place, returns the container on day 24.

Tariff	Days Charge	1	2	3	4	5	6	Next 5 Days	Thereafter
		Free						USD 60/Day	USD 70/Day
Traditional	Days Charge	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24
Applicable charges for return on day 24.		Free														USD 60/Day					USD 70/Day
																USD 60 x 5					USD 70 x 5
Progressive	Days Charge	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24
Applicable charges for return on day 24.		Free														USD 70/Day
																USD 70 x 10

We appreciate your business and look forward to continuing working with you in the future.
